

Arriving of Guns of Ostend Heard on English Coast

IS A JOY FOR

British Cruiser Sunk by German Submarine

LONDON, October 31 (10:45 P. M.).—The British light cruiser Hermes was sunk by a German submarine in the Straits of Dover to-day. This official announcement was made to-night. Nearly all the officers and men were saved.

There is no incident of any importance to report. In the center we have made progress in the region to the north of Ostend.

"Everywhere else we are maintaining our positions."

GERMANS SUFFER IMMENSE LOSSES

PETROGRAD, October 31.—The following official communication was issued by general headquarters to-night: "On the East Prussian front the plan for breaking through the center of our fortified position around Bialystok projected by the enemy has failed. During the last days of the successful attack the Germans suffered immense losses. In many places the great accumulations of German dead in front of our trenches caused a moderate reduction of our fire.

"Our troops have progressed in several districts on the East Prussian front. Beyond the Vistula we occupy strongly the towns of Gostynyn, Lenczka, Lody and Ostrowo.

"In Galicia the fighting continues without any essential change in the situation."

ALL COMMUNICATIONS SUMMARILY SHUT OFF

LONDON, October 31 (8:14 P. M.).—It is officially announced in London that the Turkish government summarily shut off communications with the British embassy at Constantinople Friday night, and that the British government must take whatever action is required to protect British interests and territory and Egypt from attacks made or threatened.

TO SECURE INFORMATION FOR GERMAN GOVERNMENT

Man on Trial for His Life Before Court-Martial Tells Story of His Mission to England

LONDON, October 31 (2:55 P. M.).—Carl Hans Lody, alias Charles A. Inglis, on trial for his life before a court-martial, told on the witness stand to-day the story of his mission to England to secure information for the German government. He said that formerly he was a senior lieutenant in the German navy, but later was transferred to the reserve. He secured a position to act as tourist agent for the Hamburg-American Line.

When in Berlin last July, Lody declared, he received instructions from a superior naval officer to select a route to New York. He was not to start for America, but was to remain in England until the first naval encounter between Germany and England, and give information regarding the actual losses of the British fleet. He was then to proceed to New York.

Lody said also he had been instructed to keep track of the movements of the British fleet, but was warned not to do any spying. He stated that such instruction caused him uneasiness, but he was assured that his appearance would permit him to travel as an American.

The witness spoke fluent English, with an American accent. He said he was well known in New York society, and two years ago had married an American woman of German descent, later receiving a divorce.

The prosecutor, in closing the case, declared Lody had sent to Berlin valuable descriptions of armaments, the position of the British fleet and the geography of parts of Scotland.

During the witness's examination a man who had occupied a seat on one of the War Office benches, and who was supposed to be connected with that branch of the government, was suddenly pounced upon by detectives and removed under military escort.

MOVEMENTS OF ALLIES IN FORWARD DIRECTION

No Official Confirmation of Reported Reoccupation of Ostend Up to Present.

GENERAL ADVANCE ORDERED

Germany Resumes Hammer Blows With Greater Energy Than Ever. Reported Evacuation of Lille by Kaiser's Forces Is Lacking.

LONDON, October 31.—The impression created here by the latest war news is that a general advance of the allied forces in France and Belgium has been ordered, so main interest again is centered in the cockpit covering thirty or forty miles from the sea-board.

The general trend of the movements of both the German and the allied armies is for the moment, according to both British and French official statements, in a northerly and northeasterly direction, which is in accordance with the desires of the allied commanders, but that Germany has resumed her hammer blows with greater energy than ever is attested by the British official information bureau.

In spite of these stubborn counter-strokes, it is claimed that all the movements of the allied forces are in a forward direction, towards the line still held by Germans in force, and stretching from Bruges to Thourout, Roulers, Isghem and Courtrai.

Whether from Bruges this line extends to Ostend or Zeebrugge is a moot point, there being up to the present no official confirmation of the reported reoccupation of Ostend by the allies. Information of the reported evacuation of Lille by the Germans also is lacking.

BATTLE NEAR YPRES OF STUBBORN CHARACTER

The battle in the vicinity of Ypres is of a most stubborn character, especially at Passendale, and the neighboring villages, and the slaughter is so great that central West Flanders has become one enormous hospital. The allied advance in this quarter is pushing the German lines further eastward, but the Germans are undergoing great damage each time it changed hands.

Rheims again has become the target of Teutonic guns, and activities on the heights of the Meuse in the Woerwa district indicate further efforts on the part of the Germans to strengthen their hold on the St. Mihiel district.

Up to the present apparently no declaration of war upon the other has been made by either Russia or Turkey, and the hope still is entertained in some quarters that the Porte may be able to advance a plausible explanation which will keep Turkey from being dragged into the caldron of the European war.

An interesting announcement comes from Melbourne. At the request of the Secretary of State for War, Lord Kitchener, sixty cadets of the Australian Military College at Duntroon, New Zealand, are being sent to join the British expeditionary force. It is stated, this is the institution founded some years ago upon the recommendation of Lord Kitchener himself, on the lines of the West Point Military Academy, which Lord Kitchener had declared to be the finest military college in the world.

RUSSIAN GUNBOAT DRIVES TURKISH VESSELS AWAY

LONDON, October 31 (11:40 P. M.).—Reuter's Petrograd correspondent sends the following:

"The Russian gunboat Kubanets put up a fight against two Turkish torpedo boats which entered Odessa harbor, and attacked merchant ships. The Kubanets finally drove the Turkish boats off."

"The torpedo boats' shells struck the Kubanets, tearing a hole in her wooden superstructure. Steamers in the harbor and warehouses on shore also were damaged. The Turks strove to torpedo the Kubanets, but failed."

The passengers and crew of the steamer Yalta, which was sunk, were saved, and most of the crew of the Kasbeck, which also was sunk, got away on rafts."

COPPER NOW CONSIDERED ABSOLUTE CONTRABAND

This Is Revealed in Revised List Sent by Great Britain Through Ambassador Page.

HERE TO FORE CONDITIONAL

Officials Inclined to View Promulgation as Not Affecting Shipments Now Under Protest, Made Before New Ruling Is Announced.

WASHINGTON, October 31.—Great Britain henceforth will consider copper shipments absolute contraband of war. That was revealed by a revised contraband list sent to-day by Ambassador Page. A previous list classed copper as conditional contraband.

The only other important change in the placing of illuminating oil on the conditional list.

The question of contraband shipments came before the State Department to-day before the new British list was made public. Formal protest was lodged with the British government, through Ambassador Page, against detention at Gibraltar of the American steamer Kroonland, copper-laden, en route to Greece. Mr. Page also was instructed to request the release of the Italian steamers San Giovanni and Regina D'Italia also detained at Gibraltar while en route to Italian ports with American copper.

The United States government took the position that as the shipments were to neutral countries they were not subject to seizure. Some officials were inclined to view promulgation of the new British contraband lists as not affecting these shipments, because they were made before it was announced. British officials here are understood to share this view.

TRADE WITH NEUTRALS

Advices were received to-day that Italy had published a list of commodities, exportation of which was forbidden. Three other neutral countries have taken similar precautions to protect their trade with other neutrals.

The State Department is preparing a tabulated statement of these embargoes for the information of American shippers. The statement will cover shipments to Italy, Holland, Sweden and Norway.

The embargoes apply generally to foodstuffs, clothing and military supplies. The effect of the embargoes and of the efforts of neutrals to find a common ground of understanding as to contraband with belligerent powers, will be to exempt from seizure anything short of actual contraband cargoes.

Is Quickly Digested by the Taking of a Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablet After It Is Over.

Corn on the cob is hard to digest, for some folk, but with a Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablet it readily is disposed of by the stomach and digestive apparatus.

Don't drug your stomach. Give it just what it needs at the very moment it needs it. Here is the way a Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablet acts:

"He—I can eat corn now and feel O. K. a Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablet helps quickly digest it."

One takes a tablet just after the meal is completed. It is taken into the mouth, like a cookie, and mixed with the saliva; swallowed moist and partially dissolved. It goes into the stomach and is mixed with the stomach juices which are composed of acids and alkalis.

A Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablet reinforces these juices, it quickly digests the elements which such weakened juices cannot digest.

After a while the stomach passes the meal partially digested to the intestines, where it goes through another stage of digestion. Here, as in the stomach, Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets strengthen the juices of digestion and complete the work of giving the body the benefit of the meal.

There is nothing harmful in these tablets. Only natural ingredients which the body lacks are supplied. In a short time the blood and digestive juices are given the power they lack. Man can digest any food without injury and the entire health of the body is increased. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are sold in every drug store, price 50 cents a box. Any one wishing a free trial of these tablets please address: Stuart's, 150 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich., and a small sample package will be mailed free—Advertisement.

POPULARITY GROWS APACE WITH YEAR

That his method and prescription glasses, combined with the valuable methods employed, have caused the number of his patrons to increase year by year is no mystery to the people who have been benefited by this man, who uses a method of his own.

For nearly two decades Charles Lincoln Smith has proved a benefit to innumerable natives of Richmond and Virginia, and each year recurrence of his former success, until to-day the people of Richmond and home city, are becoming his patrons in largely increasing numbers.

That he has not risen, except by the excellence of his science in the of the obstacles that naturally arise in the path of any man, is proof of the fact that his method has been a great success. The value of this method is further enhanced by an experience acquired in the largest cities of the world.
